WHY SPAIN ?

It's affordable !

Don't let rumors of the Euro's relative strength fool you. Spain remains one of the best value destinations in Europe for study abroad, allowing you to maximize fun without having to constantly overdraw from your bank account.

It's hella sunny !

Pack your sunnies and your sunblock because the sunshine just won't quit while you're studying in Spain. It averages 300+ sunny days in a calendar year, each more bright and beautiful and full of adventure than the day prior.

Catch a Glimpse of the Monuments

The access to historic and influential culture, immersion into one of the world's most important languages, and its overall cost effectiveness are unmatched, making it an absolute "duh" for any modern-day college student

A bustling hub for tech startups and ambitious entrepreneurs

It has indeed risen to the occasion to become one of the most important European hubs for digital start-ups encompassing the two largest and booming industries, including Retail & Tourism. With a state-of-the-art network of R&D centers (e.g. EURECAT, Parc de Recerca Biomèdica), technological facilities (e.g. Sincrotró Alba, Barcelona Super Computing Center), Spain now is a hotspot for students, professionals and those seeking a good quality of life.

WHY BARCELONA ?

What our students says

about us

The journey that started at the Spanish School, one year ago was indeed one of the best decisions of my life. Our faculty have inspired us and challenged us throughout this quest to help us reach the epitome of victory and achievement.

- Abdullah Ghamrawi, from Lebanon

Currently studying with this school. The facilities over here are really talented, supportive, motivating and friendly. This school has its own way of updating students for their incredible growth.

- Abdullah Karakar, from Syria

There is plenty of good schools in Barcelona in different big cities, which outperform in ranking, reputation, and credibility. During study I had its ups and downs. But overall I feel that studying at this institution was a great learning experience every day. I will forever cherish the memories I made in Barcelona.
